Pastor's Reflection

If My Prayers Actually Worked: What Would I Pray For?

One way to focus prayer and daily intentions is to stop and think: what is actually on my mind right now? If my prayers actually worked, what would I pray for?

First, the people of encounter. Who has expressed a need to me today, directly or indirectly? Pray for their intention while discerning what that intention truly is. There is often a point to our encounters with people, and part of that point may be for our prayer time. Second, the long-term things. What situations, burdens, people, or concerns have been consistently entering my mind over time? These long-term thoughts often reveal where deeper prayer is needed. Third, the more recent fears and anxieties of the past weeks.

If it is something I recently caused, pray for the clarity and wisdom to bring peace to the situation through my words and actions in a way that is level, balanced, and fruitful.

If it is something I did not cause, ask the Holy Spirit what blessing He desires me to send into the situation with my powers. I love that word "powers," because it means the mind, faith, body, and words I control, which God sustains and animates, giving me freedom to use them either for Him or against Him.

Then there is the world itself. What do I wish I could make a difference in on a world scale simply through prayer to God? Name those things.

Finally, mentally look around my atmosphere. What needs do I notice in the people around me as a whole—in the parish I serve and in daily life? If my prayers actually worked, what would I pray for?

Now that Spring is here and summer right around the corner we are looking for help with the maintenance of Mary's garden and some general landscaping of the church grounds at various times during the summer. We are currently a small group of dedicated workers who would surely appreciate another volunteer or two. If you look at all of the church grounds much of what you see has been planted in the last several years. There have been many comments about how nice the church grounds look but it takes work to keep it maintained. If anyone has an interest in helping please contact either Scott or Karen Benedict at 724-771-0890.
